THE FORT PITT MASSACRE.

Horrible Mutilation of the Bodies.

The Body of Mrs. Gownlock Discovered in a Well.

BATTLEFORD, May 28.—Inspector Peters and twenty mounted police arrived here to-day from General Strange's column, which has reached Fort Pitt. He reports Fort Pitt burned. Policeman Cowan's body was found there horribly mutilated, the heart being cut out and impaled on a pole near the body. Inspector Peters was also at Frog Lake, where they discovered the bodies of the people massacred there by Big Bear's Indians. A body supposed to be that of

was found in a well. Both legs were severed near the thigh, and the arms above the elbows. The bodies of Father Marchand and Father Fafard were found in the cellar of a burned house, much charred. They were recognized by the beads found in their pockets, and their gowns which were not altogether destroyed. The remains of

were discovered in the woods near by. Gen. Strange has sent Inspector Steele north to look up Big Bear's band. His whereabouts is a matter of conjecture. He has likely gone north to Frog Lake. The Cree chief Moosomin came in to-day from Turtle Lake. He says he has been friendly all along, but took a large number of settlers' cattle with him. He says Big Bear's young men and forced him to give up the cattle and horses to them. General Middleton, with a large escort of Boulton's mounted infantry, went out to Moosomin's reserve to day and found it deserted, with Instructor Clink's house burned. Inspector Peters returns to Gen. Strange to morrow with despatches from Middleton.

THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN SETTLEMENT.

The Price England Has Paid for Peace.

NEW YORK, May 31.—A Times' cable special from London says: "The official declaration here of Russia's agreement to be satisfied, for the time being, with what she has seized caused little excitement. Nobody was surprised or more than passively interested by the statement, the essentials of which have been discussed for a fortnight past, that the fight was off. Russia has practically got all she wants, and is bound by no pledges for the future. Gen. Komaroff has been exalted and honored beyond any Russian general of his generation, while Sir Peter Lumsden's recall has been secured under conditions which, to the Asiatic mind at least, might imply disgrace. The Afghans, Persians and perhaps in a degree the Indians too have been given a strikingly vivid object lesson on the subject of England's timidity under pressure. If the czar is dissatisfied with the net result he must be difficult indeed to please. John Bull certainly is not pleased, but then he only half-realizes it, and is entirely in the fog as to what to do about it. In playing a merciless cut-throat game in European politics a despotism has this immense advantage over a government by parliament. The autocrat knows clearly what he wants, while the premier, who is chiefly anxious about the elections, does not. From the Russian side the game has been played for all it was worth, by a single resolute gamester, who had nobody to please but himself. The English side was played solely with reference to the presumed prejudices, ignorance or interests of 300 or 400 constituencies, most of which will be dominated in the next election by new and unlettered electors. Penjdeh is the price paid for the experiment, by a free and constitutional government to a conscienceless despotism.

MONTREAL, May 26.—The Local Premier, D. Ross, is here on his way, he says, to New York to consult with leading doctors as to his health. Many rumors were afloat that he was on a financial venture, but as the Province is known to be bankrupt, it is not likely that is his mission among the Americans.

Judge Gill rendered judgment this morning in a most peculiar action, in which the plaintiff, Mrs. Waldron, sues her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Eaves, for $5,000 for alleged defamatory and malicious libel. The nature of the majority of the charges brought against the daughter are unfit for publication, but she is charged with circulating the most scandalous stories regarding her mother, amongst others of attempting to poison her father's mind against his wife, and attempting to make him leave his wife. When he refused to do this the daughter visited the establishment where the father was employed, and told Mr. Carsley that her father was a thief, and had been guilty of purloining goods from his store. Mr. Carsely refused to believe the story, and Mr. Waldron is still employed there. The judge this morning said in his decision that the conduct of the daughter had been monstrous. The allegation of the plaintiff had been proven, and judgment would be given for $200 and costs.

There is another failure in cigar making, S. Fischel & Co., have asigned with liabilities of $20,000.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., May 28.—Brenton Longworth visited his father's grave in Sherwood cemetery yesterday and went to see the keeper, Patrick Callaghan. He was horrified to find Callaghan's corpse concealed under a mattrass. The body was terribly mutilated, and the room was bespattered with blood, indicating a severe struggle with the murderer. A butcher knife and a large iron grate bar were the instruments used to do the murderous work. The victim was a miserly old man having $4,000 in the bank. It is believed he had the money in the house, which was the object of the murder. An inquest will be held.

MITCHELL, May 25.—A very severe thunder storm passed over here yesterday at three o'clock. The lightning struck the barn of John Thompson, seventh concession, Logan, firing the same and destroying it with the contents, killing his hired man, William Blubar. Thompson and his two sons were in the barn at the time, and their escape was almost miraculous. There is $1,500 insurance, and the loss over and above the insurance is $1,500.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 28.—In the Supreme Court at Windsor yesterday Chief Justice McDonald sentenced a fifteen year-old boy named Patten to 16 years in the penitentiary for laying rails across the Windsor and Annapolis track near Windsor.

KINGSTON, May 27.—Buckley and Spencer, escaped convicts, were captured at Brighton this morning. They had boarded a freight car for the west.

BELLEVILLE, May 27.—The body of George Gerdies has been found alongside a fence, with a bullet through his lungs. His gun was probably accidentally discharged, and death was instantaneous.

The fiscal year of the Quebec Government ends on the 31st June, and the amout voted to meet expenses is reported to have been exhausted.

TORONTO, May 27.—The Canadian voyageurs who arrived last evening got paid to-day. They are now visiting the sights in the city. The Winuipeg men, twenty-seven in number, left for the west. S. J. Remington accompanied them.

Five houses were destroyed by fire this evening on Henderson avenue. The fire spread so rapidly that the occupants barely escaped with their lives. The loss is $3,000; no insurance.

The cause of the differences between Rev. Mr. Wilson, pastor of Carlton street church, were settled by the congregation paying up arrears of the pastor's salary, and he severing his connection with the church.

A pulley burst in Firstbrook's box factory to-day. A fragment struck a boy named William Warner, 14 years of age, on the head, fracturing his skull. His case is hopeless.

KINGSTON, May 26.—Reports from nearly every leading fruit grower in the Hudson river valley show that with the exception of peaches the yield of fruits will be one of the largest and best in many years.

LAKE HILL.—Mr. Ralph, C. E., has completed the subdividing and marking of the corner posts of this valuable estate, and the property will soon be placed upon the market at private sale on exceptionally favorable terms; a most advantageous view of the land, together with the adjoining estates, Swan Lake and Victoria can be had from Lake Hill heights which are easy of access; prices of each plot of about five acres will be given upon application after the 30th April. Subdivision maps can be seen at our office. District maps of the location can be had on application.

GENERAL MIDDLETON.

Some of the "war" correspondents of the eastern press blame General Middleton for what they are pleased to term the slowness of his movements at Fish Creek and Batoche. One correspondent, whose letter appeared yesterday, states that the volunteers made the final charge at Batoche in violation of orders. This may or may not be correct; but we think we have observed in General Middleton's movements from the first a desire to spare his men—to make the last of casualities as small as possible, so that there should not be "mourning in all the land." The general is an experienced soldier. The troops were green, and undergoing a "baptism of fire" for the first time; and the general had not before handled volunteers. When General Middleton remarked at Fish Creek and during the first two days of the fighting at Batoche that he could not trust his troops to make a bayonet charge on the rifle pits, he meant, no doubt, what he said. But on the third day, when the general, who had previously tested the stuff of which his men were made, saw them bounding forward to bayonet the hidden foe, he cried to one of his aides—"Let them go. There's death or victory in that charge!" There were both. The charge meant death to the rebels and their cause and victory to the government troops. That the commander's plans were well conceived is shown by the sudden collapse of the "army" led by Riel, the relief of the beleaguered town of Prince Albert, and the reinforcement of Colonel Otter at Battleford and of General Strange at Fort Pitt. All this has been accomplished with the least possible expenditure of life and limb, a circumstance that is due, in the main, to the caution of General Middleton, who has aimed from the first to spare his own force while dealing deadly blows to the rebels. The brilliant manner in which General Middleton has conducted the campaign and the humanity that has characterized his every movement prove that he is a commander of rare ability.

THE C. P. R.'s PLIGHT.

The financial situation of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. alarms eastern business circles. The liabilities of the company are very large indeed; and in the face of depressed trade and a stringent money market delay in legislation has almost paralyzed the country. When the session opened the company were practically without funds. They were in desperate straits and when the government rejected the company's first and second propositions for relief, it was feared that a general collapse would take place. A third proposition was accepted by the government and, it is asserted by the opposition press, they have advanced the company five millions under the proposed arrangement. The railway will be put through by fall; but there will then crop up the important problem to be solved. Will it pay to run? There are many who assert that the carrying trade of Oriental goods will be so large as to enable the company to earn a dividend the first year. We have often expressed the opinion that the amount of Oriental traffic that will use the road will be so insignificant as to scarcely enter as a factor into any calculations the company may make; we see no reason to modify that opinion. What the company has got to depend on is local traffic. The lumber and fruits of British Columbia should find a ready market in the Northwest and the quantity of goods brought by train to British Columbia from Eastern Canada will always be large; but the mission of the railway is to colonize the country. If it should fail to do that it will never pay and the stock will fall lower and lower until the government may have to foreclose their mortgage. The C. P. R. have got a graver task before them than some people imagine, and it is plain that they have not made their last demand on a government which is nothing if it is not generous.

POINT ELLICE BRIDGE.

It is now in order for the local opposition press to withdraw the column or two of impertinence which they leveled at the government in the matter of the Point Ellice Bridge. This work fell, by tender, to a San Francisco firm, whose bid was so much lower than the lowest received from a neighborhood firm that the government could not, with due regard for the public finances, decline to award it to the foreign company. The competition was fair and open and the San Franciscans carried off the prize. Instantly the two capital exponents of the virtues of the opposition set up a direful howl. They maintained that the bridge would be built by foreign artisans; that foreign produced iron and wood would be used in construction, and not one British Columbian workman or manufacturer would share in the benefits of the expenditure of the considerable sum of provincial money voted for the bridge. Yesterday we experienced pleasure in announcing that all the material required in its construction and the workmen required to construct it would be procured here. As "leaf by leaf the roses fall," so day by day the grievances conjured by the opposition press are shown by events to be but the "baseless fabric of a vision." The Times, true to its instincts, could not suffer the incident to pass without sneering at the idea of utilizing local industry and exclaiming, "Home industries are pretty certain to be patronized when it pays best." Our young friend should remember that it always pays best to patronize home industry. The present government have always acted on that principle; but the former government did not. They ordered the dry dock machinery from England without a tender and advertised for bids for the caisson in England, ignoring "home industry" altogether.

HOT LANGUAGE BETWEEN LORDS

Earl Granville having questioned a statement of Lord Randolph Churchill in the house of lords the latter sent a letter to the Times of which the following is the concluding paragraph. It will be seen that even between "noble lords of high degree" the "retort courteous" can be indulged in through the press:

"All I would add in conclusion is this, that every statement I have made in the house of commons about the Russian advance in Central Asia was founded on official documents in the possession of the public, and that not one of the colleagues of the foreign secretary dared to impugn the accuracy of those statements, either on the day they were made or on the Monday following, when another opportunity was open to them. The process of sneaking down to the house of lords and making there without notice a variety of deliberate misrepresentations, deliberate misquotations, and false assertions is quite in accordance with the little that is known of the public career of Earl Granville, knight of the garter, and, to the misfortune of his country, Her Majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs."

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 3, 5 p. m.—Another dispatch from Durham states that the fire in the colliery near that place occurred in the top seam of Margaret pit, the Peggy pit as it is known locally, that it was caused by explosion and that 22 men and boys at work there were killed outright. The explosion was followed by a rush of water in immense volumes into the Sutton seam. The miners, men and boys, however, were all taken out alive. Working parties are now laboring zealously to stay the flood of waters rushing into the Mandlin seam, where a great number of miners are imprisoned, and whom the reliefs hope to release and rescue.

LONDON, June 3.—A dispatch from Berlin says that Mr. Pendleton, U. S. minister, will resume negotiations regarding the position of minors born in America, sons of German parents, who after being naturalized in America take up their residence in Germany. Negotiations commenced by Mr. Kasson were without result, the principal point of dispute being whether the government could in the interests of public order refuse such minors the right of residence in Germany.

QUEENSTOWN, June 3.—The canvas-decked boat Neptune has arrived here from Penzance and will start for New York on Friday. The only soul on board is a Norwegian named Johnson.

LONDON, June 3.—English troops will leave Assouan about the middle of June for Cairo at the rate of 1500 per week. The rebels have occupied Korti and expect that they will advance upon Dongola when the English have gone.

LONDON, June 3.—United States Minister Phelps was the principal guest last evening at a banquet given to judges by Lord Mayor Fowler at the Mansion house. The lord mayor, in proposing the toast to the United States, stated that he hoped soon to have the honor of entertaining ex-President Arthur. Mr. Phelps, in responding to the toast, said he had no such claims to the hospitalities of the United States to Englishmen as his predecessor, Mr. Lowell, had established, and therefore that the flattering reception that had been accorded him was all the more gratifying. He ascribed the warmth of his welcome to the natural and abiding love between Englishmen and Americans, which was fostered and constantly broadened and deepened by their great international intercourse. He assured his hearers of the pleasure with which Americans viewed the settlement of the questions at issue between England and Russia, and eulogized the British judiciary, whose decisions were revered in the United States.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 3.—The Cronstadt and Baltic squadron of the Russian navy have been ordered to unite in a cruise with the object of executing naval manoeuvres on a grand scale. The united fleet will consist of 18 men-of-war, a torpedo flotilla training squadron, and several gunboats.

CHINA.

LONDON, June 3.—Advices from Saigon, capital of French Cochin China, state that the Cambodian revolutionists against French authority have with the king's secret support attacked Panomping or Namwang, capital of Cambodia, and driven the European residents from the city. The refugees are sheltered on board a French ship which lies in Mekong river.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, June 3.—The North German Gazette in a leading article on the present dispute between Germany and the Sultan of Zanzibar, says that Germany has no designs against the independence of the Sultan of Zanzibar. Germany, the Gazette continues has sought to secure a treaty of friendship and commerce with him, and merely endeavored in common with other powers under the decisions of the Berlin conference to obtain facilities of trade through the sultan's coast territory with no intention of using force to procure a treaty. The sultan, however, claims the territory occupied by the German East African company which secured its titles properly from the native chiefs, and has ordered troops to enter and has taken hostile measures against Sultan Vitu, who has been a friend to Germany since 1867. Hinting that the Sultan of Zanzibar may be presuming upon British protection. The Gazette expresses the hope that the English will induce him to desist from his present policy of provocation to Germany.

AUSTRALIA.

MELBOURNE, June 3.—Three masked robbers to-day attacked and overpowered the manager and accountant of the branch of the National Bank of Australia, and after stealing £1,000 they escaped and have not been captured.

NEW YORK, June 3.—There were no new developments to-day in the matter of the defalcation of the paying teller, Richard S. Scott, of the Bank of Manhattan. Bank officials received information during the morning that their late employé had arrived in Canada and was on his way to Montreal.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The indictment against Ferdinand Ward charges that a bag was carried away which contained $1,500,000 worth of bonds and securities. The witnesses before the grand jury were cashier Fish, assistant cashier Daboll and paying teller Fish, all of the Marine bank.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 3.—The Shackamaxon Bank, which closed its doors a few days ago, to-day made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors.

COLORADO.

DENVER, June 3.—The Tribune-Republican's Longmont special says that at noon to-day the Beaver Park reservoir, in South Main canyon, burst, causing great damage to the surrounding country. The torrent, estimated 120 feet high, rushed down the canyon, carrying away bridges, houses, barnes and everything which obstructed its way, flooding the adjacent country. So far as learned no lives are lost, but the damage to crops in the meadows along the lowlands is very great. The reservoir was an immense affair, covering many acres, and supplied water for a highland ditch, which traverses a large section of country adjacent to the mountains.

Milton Wins the Derby.

The Increased Tax on Beer and Spirits.

Disaster in a Durham Coal Mine.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 3.—The greatest event on the English sporting calendar is the race for the Derby stakes, run to-day at Epsom Downs. The weather was brilliant and the attendance enormous. The winner of the race was Lord Hastings' bay colt Milton. He was the favorite in betting, and was ridden by by the famous jockey Fred Archer. Captain C. Bowling's bay colt Paradox was second and Mr. Childwick's bay colt Royal Hampton third. Paradox was second choice in betting, and was ridden by Webb. Giles rode Royal Hampton.

Just before the race 7 to 4 was offered against Milton and freely taken; 5 to 1 against Paradox, 5 to 1 against Crafton, 10 to 1 against Royal Hampton, 12 to 1 against Kingwood, and 20 to 1 against the field, consisting of Choubra, Luminary, Refrain, Sheraton, Sterling and Linette.

The Prince and Princess of Wales were on the ground.

NEW YORK, May 31.—A London cablegram says: The budget increase of the duty on beer and spirits has been a blessing in disguise to many enterprising dealers. If, as is now almost certain, Childers abandons the increased tax, hundreds of publicans will have made big fortunes. Scenting the intention of the government, they took enormous quantities of spirits out of bond, at the old rates of duty, and sold them at greatly enhanced prices to retailers, who had less foresight. Even those dealers who neglected this chance of making a profit will still be saved from suffering, as Childers intends to return the extra duty that has been collected. One London publican, who does a retail business amounting to £7000 pounds per week, has already cleared £50,000 by the fluctuations of the past few weeks, and expects to double this profit before he gets through. He naively told your correspondent to-day that in the future he would always vote the liberal ticket.

LONDON, June 3.—By an explosion of fire damp in the Philadelphia colliery, situated near Durham, to-day, 22 lives were lost.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The message announcing the Derby winner was transmitted from London to New York this morning by the Direct United States Cable company to the Associated Press in three seconds, about the quickest time yet made between the two cities.

A U. S. CONSUL IN TROUBLE.

He Attempts to Kill the Editor of a Paper in Brazil.

RIO JANEIRO, May 26.—The Southern mail has brought an explanation of the grounds for the arrest of Mr. Mackay, United States Consul at Rio Grande do Sul, on the 16th of April. According to Rio Grande papers, Mackay had long been the special mark for attacks of a caricaturing paper, of which a certain Thadeo Alves de Amorim was the editor. Finally on the 12th the attack culminated in an attack on Mackay's mother and in a scandalous assertion of his own intimacy with two respectable ladies. Mackay was seated in the theater on the evening of the 16th, when Amorim passed, scraped his feet on the floor to draw attention, and looked at the consul in an insulting manner and spat loudly. Mackay jumped up, and, after some exchange of words, Amorim raised a sword-stick and struck at Mackay, but the stick caught in the chandelier and broke. Mackay then drew a small revolver and fired four shots, three of which struck, but as Amorim ducked produced only superficial wounds. Amorim then drew a pistol and fired, but the pistol was seized by a by stander, whose hand was severely mangled by the charge. Amorim was taken out to have his wounds dressed, and Mackay, accompanied by the German consul, proceeded to the residence of the police magistrate and surrendered himself, whereon he was lodged in apartments of the staff major, in the police barracks, and where next day over 400 of the chief inhabitants of the city went to compliment him and offer their services. His trial will take place next week. He is only in his twenty third year.

A SCOTCH MINISTER GOES OVER TO ROME.

Intense Excitement in the Free Church Assembly.

EDINBURGH, May 26.—There is a great sensation in church circles over the alleged apostacy of the distinguished preacher, Dr. Adams Stuart Muir, of Trinity Free church, Leith, whose appeal from dismissal, for "popish practices," was unsuccessfully heard yesterday in the general assembly of the Free Church of Scotland. Dr. Muir was accused of teaching baptismal regeneration, worshipping God in nightly prayer before a representation of Christ on the cross, and sanctioning the sale of his own portrait in that attitude, thus indicating approval of popish doctrines and practices. He defended himself in an eloquent manner, and in concluding his appeal produced almost a riot among the learned body, when he quoted Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," and taking an ivory crucifix from his pocket, held it out with his right hand, amid great sensation in the assembly, which swelled into hissing and cries of "shame.," and then he added, "The time will come when I shall die with this emblem of even your faith upon my bosom." He is now expected to soon enter the Church of Rome.

DECISIVE.

Middleton's Reply to Poundmaker.

Middleton's reply to Poundmaker, was as follows:

Steamer Northcote, May 23.

POUNDMAKER—I have utterly defeated the half-breeds and Indians, and have made prisoners of Riel and most of his council. I have made no terms with them, neither will I make terms with you. I have men enough to whip you and your people, or at least drive you away to starve, and will do so unless you bring in the teams you took, yourself and your councillors to meet me with your arms at Battleford on Friday the 26th. I am glad to hear you treated the prisoners well, and have released them.

(Signed) FRED MIDDLETON,
Major-General.

In accordance with this ultimatum Poundmaker surrendered.

A CARD.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—

THIS STATEMENT CONCERNING THE CONdition of Mr. C. H. Charity, deceased, is made for the especial purpose of correcting any errors in public opinion arising from the prejudice and misconception of the results of the magnetic treatment he received at the hands of Prof. Menzies, who, as the certificate states in his circular, did fully all that is mentioned therein, and that Mr Charity was enjoying a condition of ease and had good control of his body, and we believe that had he followed the oft repeated advice of the Professor and had taken heed of his warnings the calamity which followed might have been avoided. He was able to walk to and from Beacon Hill on the Queen's birthday without much fatigue, and had announced his intention of resuming work during the coming week, he then having every hope of future power and strength, until, over working himself by sawing and splitting wood, when a second paralysis was brought about and, as physicians were called in, the Professor did not treat him. We remain grateful to the Professor for the kind services extended to Mr Charity.

Also, that there is no classification, all freight being taken at a uniform scale of from 1¼ to 2 cents per pound. This will be good news for business men and consumers as well.

DEATH OF RIEL'S PRIVATE SECRETARY.

Dumont Believed to be in Hiding.

Big Bear's Idea of Enjoyment.

(Exclusive to The Colonist.)

WINNIPEG, June 3.—Jollyn, Riel's private secretary, whose leg was amputated at Saskatoon, died on Sunday and was buried the same day. The other wounded, including Corporal Lethbridge, are all doing well. Capts. Clark, Manley and Mason are now almost convalescent.

Great excitement was created at Saskatoon last night by a report that Dumont was in a settler's house a few miles distant. Capt. Manley with nine men started immediately for the scene, but on arrival found the man was not Dumont, but a half-breed named Fortier. The report that Dumont was captured at Assinnaboine is not credited at Saskatoon. It is believed he is hovering around Batoche awaiting an opportunity to get his wife and family away.

Father De Deu, vicar of St. Albert, near Edmonton, with reference to Big Bear said: "Before I left Big Bear was sending scouts from his reserve to different reserves around the neighborhood. The message he gave them was to this effect: 'We are doomed, and will be killed one after another by the whites; but before we die or disappear altogether we must enjoy ourselves as much as possible, and therefore we must plunder the stores and kill as many white people as we can.'"

Supplies are getting short at Edmonton and volunteers and people are on half rations.

THE NEW YORK POST

Discusses the Chinese Problem as it Affects British Columbia.

(Exclusive to The Colonist.)

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Evening Post in an editorial says the commission appointed by the governor-general of Canada to thoroughly investigate the Chinese problem found that the Chinese labor has been efficient in promoting the rapid development of the country. The commissioners recommend a system of moderate restriction. The editorial goes on to state that the question is one of violent interest to the people of British Columbia, as Chinamen have been pouring into that province of late years in large numbers. At the capital city of Victoria there are now about 3,000 of these immigrants to 10,000 of other inhabitants. The number of Chinese in the whole province is estimated as high as 18,000, while the entire population, by the census of four years ago, was not quite 50,000. There is a strong demand for some legislation on this subject by the Dominion parliament at the present session. If it follows the lines of the commissioners' suggestions Canada's disposition of the question will shine by contrast with the savage policy adopted by this country.

Yellowstone National Park.

Arrangements have been perfected for the season of 1885 in the way of excursions in the Yellowstone park. The O. R. & N. Co. have on sale excursion books to this favorite resort and return. These books include rail transportation Pullman sleeping car accommodation meals at eating stations and on the dining cars, stage fare and five days hotel accommodation in the park, and will be sold at the low rate of $120. When it is considered that this rate includes the entire expense of the trip and provides the very best accommodations, at the same time relieving tourists of the trouble of looking after and making their own arrangements, its cheapness and advantage will be appreciated. This is a rare opportunity to visit the "Wonderland" and all who can should avail themselves of it. *

The Pool Selling Case.

The charge against Clancey for selling pools was heard and decided yesterday. The justices imposed a fine of $25 and costs, or in default one month's imprisonment. The court room was the scene of a spirited contest between one of the justices and counsel for the accused. It is believed the case will be appealed. Clancey did not put in an appearance personally and is said to have taken a summary way of deciding the matter by taking refuge in Uncle Sam's domains.

THE ARMED MOSQUITO.

Experience of an Occasional Correspondent on the West Coast.

The sun went down behind old Cat Face Mountain and left Clayoquot Sound as lonely as the house in Ottawa after the Chinese restriction bill had passed. When the captain and I stepped on shore it seemed like a desert island, save for the vision of a red blanket, the owner of which belonged to the noble line of Clayoquots. The ebbing tide left the social cockle free to visit his neighbor for a quiet gossip and the brilliant crab went out of sight as fast as a Johnson street policeman at the witching hour of midnight, while the industrious clams vented their shelled up feeling in gleeful showers of spray until the beach resembled a miniature scene of the geyser springs in the Yellowstone national park. We turned away silently meditating on the wonders of nature and the invention of clam chowder in particular and meandered slowly up to the house of a friend, where the commodore waited by appointment for a social game of cribbage. As we sauntered along discussing the new May moon and the enormous increase in the population of mosquitoes, we heard wafted along on the evening breeze the melodious sounds of that household instrument, the German accordian, and as we listened in rapturous attention we distinctly made out the entrancing notes of that soul inspiring melody "Champagne Charlie" with the heavy bucksaw bass of the commodore's in accompaniment. We entered and without any preliminaries, the game started. I was partner with the commodore and we soon made the others feel as if they hadn't struck anything soft. The game was changed to euchre and my partner soon began to cast uneasy glance over my shoulder towards the window. Looking around I saw the enemy and although not the Russians they made us feel very uneasy. The commodore says, "they see me; look at that land pirate with the night glasses"; and sure enough I saw the veteran leader examining our position with a pair of field glasses. We began fortifying ourselves by smoking Old Judge cigarettes and soon the room was thick with the smoke of battle, the heavy breathing of the commodore resembled the distant rumbling of an earthquake. As he tugged away at his weed, he murmured —— them, passed and threw up his hand as if he were shot. Penetrating the sultry atmosphere I could discern him in the dim distance making flank movements on a brigade of the enemy—mosquitoes that were playing seven up on the edge of his ear, but they got wind of his movement and beat a hasty retreat whistling "not for Joseph," while the accordian struck up "Home Sweet Home." Our game broke up in confusion and no wonder, we could distinctly hear them chanting their "Just before the battle" serenade far above the unearthly though more welcome sounds of the noble siwash as he belabored the family camp kettle with the big medicine club. We took advantage of the darkness and bidding them good night made our escape on board the Thunderbolt and turned in for the night. SALT.

Marriage of Archd'n Wright's Daughter at Greatham Rectory, Hants.

On Thursday, the 30th ult., the village of Greatham was in high fête on the marriage of Miss Nina Geldart Wright, daughter of the Ven. Archdeacon Wright, rector of Greatham, to the Rev. Robert Stewart Hare, of Mossborough, Eckington, Derbyshire. The bridegroom was accompanied by the Rev. C. Lewis, as best man, and the bridesmaids were Miss Anne Thomson, Miss Alice Huo, and Miss Ethel Geldart, cousin of the bridegroom. There was an early celebration at 8 30, and at eleven o'clock the beautifully decorated church was crowded by the villagers and other friends of the bride, so much so that when the bridal party had entered the church there was scarcely standing room for a child. Archdeacon Wright officiated, assisted by his son, the Rev. Frederick George Wright, military chaplain, Portsmouth, and the Rev. Henry Geldart, late vicar of Hellingly, Sussex, uncle of the bridegroom. The bride was given away by her uncle, the Rev. James Geldart, vicar of Poddington, Beds., the first part of the service taking place at the chancel steps. In lieu of the customary exhortation the Rev. H. Geldart delivered an eloquent and moving address. The church had been decorated by the ladies of Lecourt, and beautiful, rare, and costly were the flowers. The choir was in full force, and sang sweetly the marriage hymn, showing how carefully they had been trained by Mr. Barber, whose skill as organist was evidenced by music well selected and well executed. A reception was afterwards held by Archdeacon and Mrs. Wright, at Greatham rectory, and at three o'clock the happy couple left for London and Ashchurch rectory, Tewkesbury. During the afternoon there was a large garden party, and at 6:30 the rectory grounds were open to the villagers who came to see the wedding presents, which were numerous and handsome.

DESTRUCTIVE.—At low tide the startling fact is apparent that a great number of the wooden piles supporting the various wharves along the water front are very much eaten by the destructive sea worm. Many are eaten clean through and only retain their place by the hold of the nails to the wharf's floor. Others are almost eaten asunder, an inch or two would separate the pieces. The support of the warehouses on the wharves have a very slender appearance, and soon they must be replaced, or serious accident may be the result. Slowly and surely these little worms are destroying an immense amount of valuable property and endangering life.

RECEPTION.—The ladies of the auxillary society of the Y. M. C. A gave a reception to the members and friends of the association in the school-room of the Pandora street Presbyterian Church. The large room was comfortably filled and a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music and readings was given. During an intermission refreshments of fruit, coffee and cake were dispensed by the ladies. The evening was a very pleasant one, and the members of the society should feel greatly indebted to the ladies for so agreeable a time.

Municipal Council.

WEDNESDAY, June 3rd.

The regular meeting of the council was held last evening at 8 o'clock.

Present—His Worship the Mayor in the chair, and Couns. McKillican, Robertson, Smith, Braden, Grant, Ward and Warner.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and adopted.

ASSESSOR'S ROLL.

City Clerk Robinson reported to the council that the assessor's return had been handed in that day.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From David Fee and Thos J. Partridge, asking that a sidewalk be laid on Quadra street. Referred to street committee for report.

From R. S. Randall addressed to the "city fathers," asking that he be paid for the construction of a ditch which he had made some years ago. The city were using it, and if it was not paid for he would stop the ditch as it was private property. He wanted one year's taxes

Coun. McKillican explained the circumstances of the case, and thought Mr. Randall should be paid for the drain.

His worship said it was not right that every old claim should be brought to this council for payment.

On motion the matter was referred to the street committee and city engineer for report.

From Catherine Holtz, calling attention to a box drain near the Colonist hotel, and also to a pool of stagnant water, and stating that she would allow the use of her property for the construction of a drain to carry off the foul water. Referred to street committee.

From Mr. Williams, calling attention to the drain on Yates street in front of the Deluge engine house, which drained into his cellar. Referred to the sanitary committee.

From Edwin Johnson, city barrister, stating that he had searched the plans in the registry office in reference to the encroachment of the church fence, and found that lots had been sold on Burdette avenue and Church Crescent and that this latter fact strengthened the case of the city against the fence, as explained in his former opinion.

Coun. Robertson said that it seemed a hard matter to get a decided answer out of any lawyer.

After further discussion, his worship said that the church authorities wished to compromise the matter and give an agreement that when a new structure was erected they would not encroach in any way on the street.

After the reading of the first letter from Mr. Johnson, the matter was deferred for one week, in order to allow the various documents in reference to the same to be placed before the city barrister for further report.

From Edwin Johnson, in reference to the claim of Mrs. Green for damages for injury sustained, stating that in his opinion there was no necessity for present action on the part of the council. Received and filed.

From S. C. Burris, on behalf of Messrs. Robson and Hunter, asking permission to cross the street with a tile drain to connect with street drain. Request granted.

MONTHLY ACCOUNTS.

The city clerk read the monthly bills to the amount of $2,325.89, which were ordered to be paid, if found correct.

In moving this, Coun. Ward referred to the large amount paid the newspapers for advertising, and asked if this could not be cut down.

His worship informed Coun. Ward that the advertising was only given out as provided by bylaw.

WATER SUPPLY.

Moved by Coun. Smith, seconded by Coun. McKillican, that a sum not to exceed $1,000 be allowed the water committee in order to secure the services of an engineer to prepare plans and estimates for a means for supplying the city with a better supply of water.

Coun. Smith said that it was absolutely necessary that something should be done, as there was an inadequate supply for James Bay ward, Spring Ridge and other high levels. Carried.

REPORT.

The waterworks committee reported in reference to the application of Mr. Percy Blanchard, that it would be useless laying mains on the street referred to on account of the strain on the present pipes. Water would not flow to the level of his house. The report was received.

DAMAGES.

Coun. Robertson reported in reference to the application of Thos. Inge for refund on account of breaking of his fence by the blasting and allowing his horses to be impounded. He had asked for compensation, but on inquiry it was found that there was no just ground for the claim.

The clerk was instructed to inform Mr. Inge that the council held that he had no claim.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Coun. Ward said that the list of bills passed to-night would place the council in debt with the bank to the sum of $27,000. An arrangement should be effected with the bank for a further overdraft. He would move that the finance committee arrange with the bank for such overdraft.

Seconded and carried.

Coun. McKillican moved that the city engineer prepare an estimate for the removal of the rock encumbering Humboldt street, both sides.

Coun. Smith seconded the motion, which was carried.

Coun. Warner referred to a previous communication in reference to the opening of Blanchard avenue from Queen's avenue to Hillside and moved that plans be prepared and tenders called for the carrying out of such work.

Seconded and carried.

Coun. Braden complained about work ordered to be done and never carried out by the street committee. Work should be carried out promptly, and not allowed to remain in abeyance to the inconvenience of the public. Extra men should be employed for the purpose of furthering work.

Coun. Grant moved, seconded by Coun. Smith, that all sidewalks ordered by the council be at once laid or repaired, and the street committee empowered to employ extra labor for the same. Carried.

Coun. Robertson moved, seconded by Coun. Warner, that Mr. B. W. Pearse be requested to deed over the continuation of Pembroke street to the city. Carried.

Coun. Smith called attention to the fact that the drain on Fort street was in some places under the sidewalk and should be removed to the outside of the walk, and also that the sidewalks should be made of uniform width.

The much talked electric light question was again brought out, and a number of opinions expressed as to the means of maintaining the light, as the first payment was to be made to-day.

The electric light committee was empowered to make temporary arrangement in reference to the light.

His worship said that in reference to shade trees it would be advisable not to take any action on the matter until the drainage question was settled.

Coun. Smith said that complaints were general about the non attendance of the pound keeper to the numerous horses and cows that roamed around the streets at night destroying ornamented trees.

His worship said that an arrangement had been made to meet Mr. Thompson and consult with him in reference to purchasing the gas plant.

Council adjourned.

VANDALISM.

Defacement of Royal Academy Paintings.

LONDON, May 24.—The mysterious defacement of paintings continues, and is assuming gigantic proportions. An odd thing about the work of the vandals is that pictures restored one day are found again defaced the following morning. This adds to the mystery, and has led to the suspicion that the perpetrators of the outrages are among the employés of Burlington House. In addition to the detectives in plain clothes, who have been employed since Friday in circulating among the visitors, a number of others are now employed to keep watch all night, both in the galleries and outside the building. The rascals have proved very cunning, however, and no clue to their identity has yet been obtained. It is evident that they are thoroughly familiar with all the ins and outs of the galleries, and that they know something about the practical details of painting, as the cuts and scratches are invariably put where they will do the most harm. The attacks are chiefly on the works of Royal Academicans, the chief sufferers thus far having been the president, Sir Frederick Leighton, and Messrs. Alma Tadema, J. Everett Millais, Thomas Faed, W. Q Orchardson and Edward J. Poynter, all R. A.'s. Among the pictures which have been damaged or ruined are the two portraits of Lord Rosebery's children, that of Lady Sybil Primrose, aged five, being by Sir Frederick Leighton, and that of Lady Peggy Primrose, aged four, by Mr. Millais; Mr. Alma Tadema's "A Reading from Homer;" Mr. Poynter's "Diadumene" and Mr Orchardson's "Mme. Recamier." The charitable theory that the scratches were inflicted unwittingly by careless visitors is now entirely exploded, and it is certain that the vandalism is the result of deliberate malice. The outrages, however, have had one good effect—that of crowding the galleries with an almost unprecedented rush of visitors.

Mistress and Serf.

Simon Karilovitch was a dark, handsome man of thirty, in all his bearing and manner a servant of the most aristocratic type. His position as butler often required him to talk with his mistress of household matters. He had been a favorite, and as she saw, or fancied she saw, in him a growing self-confidence, consciousness of his value, she began to worry him. It was in her character a marked trait that any signs of independence or self-assertion excited her anger at once. Simon paid no heed to the little insults that were heaped upon him, and his very coolness only exasperated her. By her plate at the table always stood a splendid carafe, which it was Simon's business to fill with water. It pleased her constantly to find fault with it. It was not fresh, cold or warm, or was dirty. So it went on for several days consecutively. Each time Simon took the carafe from the table, and after a few moments returned, apparently with fresh water. At last, one day, after Barbara Petroffna had put the glass to her lips, she turned around to Simon and asked:

"What is this?"

Silence.

"I asked, what is this?"

Again silence.

"I want to know, is this water good?" and instantly the glass was thrown almost into the face of the butler. Simon turned pale, took from the table the carafe, and went ont. After a few moments he returned and poured out water for his mistress into a fresh glass.

"Ah, that is water," said Barbara Petroffna, and she drank more than half a glass.

Then Simon, pale, with lips trembling, came a few steps forward, stood near the sacred picture, crossed himself with a broad cross and said, bowing to the picture:

"God be witness, I gave the same water. I did not change it."

Having said this, he turned toward his mistress and looked straight in her face.

Several seconds of strange silence followed. Barbara Petroffna, suddenly rising from her chair said, "Begone!" and left the apartment without finishing her dinner. She shut herself up in her room. Three days later Simon was seen, his fine livery gone, in a goatskin, with a broom in his hand, sweeping out the court. From the butler in personal service on his mistress he had been degraded to the lowest place.

BEECHER ON EVOLUTION.

The Plymouth Paster Gives his Idea of the Development of the Deity.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Beecher's latest departure packed Plymouth Church, yesterday, with a curious, eager crowd, it being the first of a series of sermons on "Evolution," as applied to morality and knowledge of God. He said that such knowledge is everved within us in elemental forms. As man rises step by step mentally and morally, he begins to know God and to yearn for the highest conception of him. Everything we realize in life of heroism, love, gentleness, forbearance and goodness, we put together in our imagination and called it God. The progressive development of God and divine nature in the thoughts and lives of men is one of the most remarkable things indicated in Scripture. The method of development of God was reproduced in the life of every Christian. With grace came first the knowledge of God; with the knowledge of God came more grace and the higher conception of those moral attributes which were combined in God himself. When the question is as to moral truth, then the heart sits as chief justice; reason is merely an advocate standing before its bar in the court of men's intelligence. In regard to spiritual things, man's conscience, man's faith and man's enthusiasm are legimitate censors, legitimate experiments and legitimate enunciators of truth. Beecher greatly disappointed a large number of Ingersoll's admirers and so-called scientists by stoutly asserting the impregnability of the Holy Scriptures against their assaults. He said: "The petty criticisms which pick at God's word are amazingly contemptible in the presence of the Orient light which rose in twilight, but waxed brighter and brighter toward perfect day. These petty criticisms ought to be the marvel and wonder of men. What if there be anachronism? What if there should be mistaken dates? What if there should be imperfect love permitted? What if the lust and hurtful influences of wretched people and corrupt ages should still be found here and there in the Bible? They are but fleeting elements and have their use in marking the stages of development by which human intelligence rose from darkness into relative light and conscience into relative purity and higher being. There are men going about the country with witty eloquence, deriding the book which contains the grandest history of evil—one of human consciousness toward the highest ideal, and they have no conception of the grandeur of its results." Beecher was not in favor of eliminating any part of the Old Testament. Every line of it was precious and of transcendent importance as being a portion of the history of a long period of religious evolution.

"BOCK BEER."

Its Meaning--What Bock Beer is and how it Differs from Ordinary Lager.

(New York Mail and Express.)

A little sign, embellished by a picture of a goat and a young man or woman holding a glass of a foaming liquid which has a very familiar look, is to be met with at present in every beer saloon in the city. Thousands buy it, tens of thousands drink it, but the number of those who know its true origin or meaning is comparatively few. According to some beer chronologists the origin of bock beer dates back hundreds of years. A youth in Flanders, it is said, made love by serenading the object of his affection with a fiddle. The girls refused to receive his attentions in consequence, and finally one day he was driven from the town and his fiddle broken over his head. He sat down to brood over his misery, when he was accosted by a goat, who afterward turned out to be the old boy himself in disguise. "If," said the goat, you will consider your soul mine at the end of 100 years, I will show you how to get even with your townspeople." The bargain was made, and the secret of brewing this new beer was imparted to the desolate youth. As if by magic a huge brewery sprang up in the youth's native place. The people raved over the new beer, which the youth in his gratitude christened bock, or goat beer. The brewer prospered. He married the burgomaster's daughter and became the chief man of the town.

Fianlly the hundred years rolled by and Beelzebub came to claim his own. The brewer got him drunk, and when he awoke from his drunken stupor he left the place without taking the brewer with him. Another origin claimed for bock beer is that before the process of artificial cooling was known beer was made only in winter. To keep it, it was stored in cellars. One brewer called his cellar the Bock celler, and as his brewing became very popular it came to be known as bock beer--after the name of the cellar wherein it had been stored.

Bock beer is made in the same manner lager beer is made. It differs only in the mixing and is the first brewing. An excess of malt is added to make it sweeter. It will not keep as long as lager. It is made in January or February and kept until April or May. If it were made all the year round people would not drink it. It is stronger than ordinary lager beer. Each brewer gets out his bock when it suits him best, but his stock is usually consumed in a week's time. Then another brewer's stock comes in the market, and so on until the whole stock is run off, which usually makes the bock season last about a month or six weeks.
